

Panelists

Anthony G. Brown, Lt. Governor, Maryland

Mr. Brown is a Harvard-educated attorney and has been a member of the Active and Reserve Components of the United States Army since 1984. In 2004, Mr. Brown was deployed to Iraq to serve with the Multi-National Force-Iraq. He currently serves as chairman of the Governor's Subcabinet on BRAC. He coordinates with government and military agencies to ensure Maryland's infrastructure and workforce are adequately prepared for BRAC.

Allen Shay, CEO and Founding Member, Security Technology Institute

Mr. Shay is currently President of Presinct, LLC. Prior to becoming a founding member of the Security Technology Institute, Mr. Shay served as CEO and President of Pearson Analytic Solutions. He was also the former President of NCR /Teradata Government Solutions.

Dr. Mel Bernstein, Vice President for Research, University of Maryland

Dr. Bernstein serves as Vice President for Research and Professor of the Practice in the Department of Materials Science and Engineering for the University of Maryland (UM). Prior to joining UM, Professor Bernstein served in two roles through Tufts University at the Department of Homeland Security. He was a member of the National Materials Advisory Board, of the National Research Council, and Panel Chair of the National Research Council study, "Materials Science and Engineering for the 1990s."

John Osterholz, Vice President, Cyber Warfare and Cyber Security, BAE Systems, Inc

Mr. Osterholz is responsible for integrating the application of cyber warfare and cyber security capabilities across BAE Systems to successfully address the U.S. and allied cyberspace market. Prior to assuming his current responsibilities, he was the Vice President/General Manager for C4ISR Systems, BAE Systems Inc. He was the Department of Defense senior executive responsible for development of the Global Information Grid architecture.

Rosemary Budd, Principal, Booz Allen Hamilton

Ms. Budd has over 30 years of experience performing in the Intelligence Community. Her experience includes: business development, program management, systems development, systems engineering, software development, and integration and test for a wide range of mission systems. She has been with Booz Allen for 8+ years and leads the CMD Business Development Team. She is also a member of AFCEA and leads the CMD Women in Intelligence Group Mentoring Circles program.