

Bio*Michael Kaiser

Executive Director

National Cyber Security Alliance

Michael Kaiser joined the National Cyber Security Alliance in 2008. As NCSA's chief executive, Mr. Kaiser engages diverse constituencies—business, government, other non-profit organizations—in NCSA's broad public education and outreach efforts to strengthen the nation's cyber infrastructure, including leadership of NCSA's premier outreach and awareness campaign, National Cyber Security Awareness Month.

NCSA builds efforts through public private partnerships that address cyber security issues for home users (parents and children), K-12 and higher education, and small business. Mr. Kaiser served on the Department of Commerce, NTIA Online Safety Technology Working Group and was named one of SC Magazine's information security luminaries of 2009.

Prior to joining NCSA, Mr. Kaiser spent 25 years in the field of victim's services and rights where he held senior staff positions at the National Center for Victims and Safe Horizon in New York City.

In other areas of technology, Mr. Kaiser has developed training and programs on the use of technology in crimes such as stalking and identity theft, and worked on programs exploring the use of technology to improve community policing. Along with his wife Laura Fisher Kaiser, he co-authored The Official eBay Guide to Buying, Selling, and Collecting Just About Anything (Simon and Shuster, 1999).

Mr. Kaiser has served on several non-profit Boards. He is currently the Chair and a founding Board Member of SPINUSA a national non-profit based in Massachusetts, and has served on the Board of Trustees of the College of the Atlantic in Bar Harbor, Maine, and New Destiny Housing Corporation in New York City.
