

Certificate of Completion has successfully completed the

Assessing Security and Privacy Controls in Information Systems and Organizations Introductory Course

April 2024

on

An overview of a framework for assessing security and privacy controls developed by the National Institute of Standards and Technology

The certificate only identifies that the course material was viewed and does not attest to any qualifications, knowledge, or skill level resulting from the completion of the course.